WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials reported today that Russia has "suggested" the United States drop its spy charges against Soviet Lieut. Nicolai G. Redin unless it can produce more evidence.

Redin, a 29-year-old naval officer, was seized by the F.B.I. at Portland, Ore., March 26 on espionage charges.

Washington officials, who asked anonymity, told reporters the Soviet Union had sent its suggestion through ordinary diplomatic channels. It was not a flat request that the case be dropped, they said.

Instead, it expressed the opinion that on the basis of current evidence the charge was not justified and asked whether this

M.L.A.'s Move to Repatriate All Japs

Gromyko Back At U.N. Session; New Test Near

NEW YORK (AP)—Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, resumed his place on the United Nations' Security Council today, ending his boycott of the council for taking up the Iranian question.

He entered the rose-colored council chamber with Edward R. Stettinius, the U.S. delegate, and smiled as he took his seat.

The Iranian envoy, Hussein Ala, was absent from his accustomed seat in the spectators' section.

Mr. Gromyko came back to a Council session which was convened, according to the agenda, solely for a discussion of proposed changes in the rules. The session, the Council's 31st began at 3:06 p.m., E.S.T., 12:06 p.m., P.S.T.

Russia had filed with the Council a demand for complete dismissal of the Iranian case.

Barring one possibility, a stiff Soviet-U.S. fight appeared today to be likely to result over this issue. Secretary of State Byrnes indicated the United States is opposed to reopening the Iranian case until May 6, the deadline by which all Soviet troops are supposed to be out of Iran. Some officials said the British hold a similar view.

The possibility was seen that Iran might agree with Russia's demand. Such a development would mean that the two governments most concerned in the controversy considered it a closed book as far as the Council goes. That might weaken any argument the United States could make for keeping it open for consideration May 6.

Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala has asked Premier Ahmed Qavam at Tehran for instructions. News dispatches from Tehran presented apparently conflicting views. One unidentified cabinet member said Qavam would agree to dismissal. But Prince Mozaffar Feroz, Iranian propaganda minister, said it was "entirely a Security Council matter."

At Ala's hotel, a spokesman said the entire Iranian delegation was packing to leave for Washington some time today. He said Ala would not attend the afternoon meeting of the Security Council.

Problem Posed By Franco Issue

By HARRY HODGES
Editor of the Times

HUNTER COLLEGE, BRONX CENTRE, NEW YORK — With the ubiquitous Iranian question as a backdrop of confusion, the paunchy figure of Francisco Franco is about to be taken for an airing in Security Council discussions by Poland's Ambassador Lange.

To what extent this move has Russian backing is a matter for lively conjecture. It may be that, running true to his traditional form, Mr. Gromyko sees in this diversion a chance to get his own back, so to speak. For, although Lange charges that Franco's regime is a menace to peace, and while Russia looks down her diplomatic nose at the presence of British and American troops where she considers them trespassers—a crack causing little or no excitement in either London or Washington—too much emphasis on the Spanish situation might conceivably cause considerable embarrassment to the two principal English-speaking countries.

All this may or may not re-establish the boycott which Mr. Gromyko imposed on the Council with his retirement from its discussions on March 27. When all is said and done, nevertheless, competent observers point to one salient fact—that no nation represented here, whether great or small, either wants or is in a position to start another shooting war.

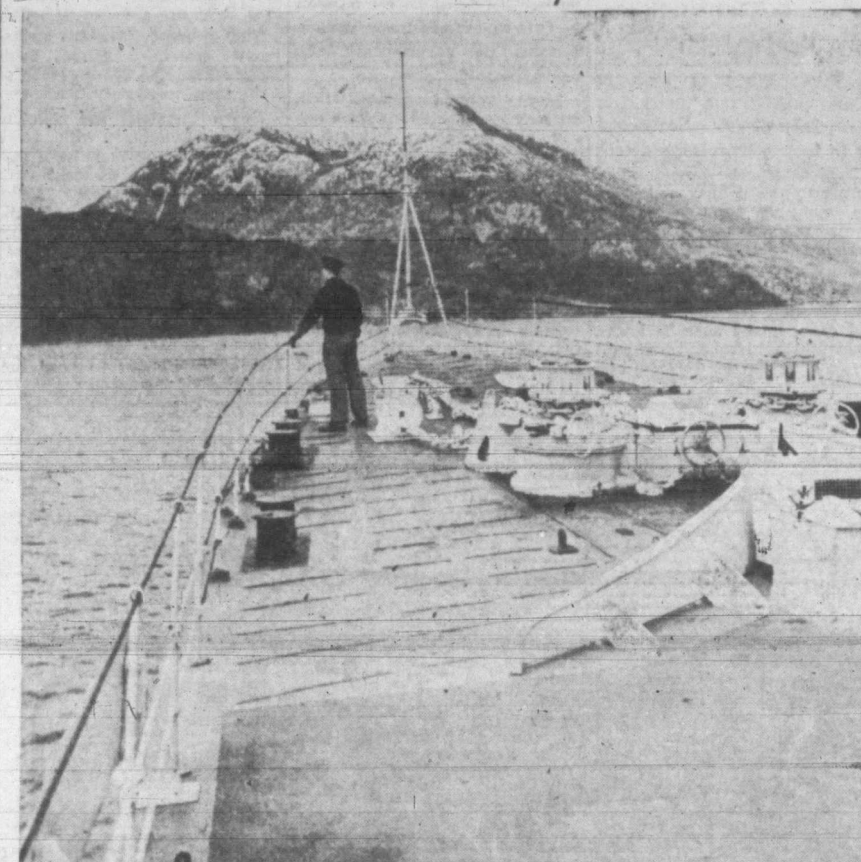

AGAINST IRANIAN REVIVAL That point was obvious following Mr. Gromyko's attendance at this afternoon's meeting of the Council. Today's discussions originally were intended as a calm session for the consideration and adoption of a couple of dozen noncontroversial procedural rules.

So far, however, neither British nor United States spokesmen have succumbed to the importunities of newsmen on Mr. Gromyko's taciturn attitude. The Soviet envoy is implacably opposed to further discussion of the Iranian affair. He took the stand in London that the Moscow and Tehran governments could settle the dispute or dispose of the situation, which ever charter term fits the case.

Having presented the council with a fait accompli, therefore, he obviously declines to associate his country with the decision to leave the issue on the agenda paper until May 6, the date of which both Russia and Iran were to report on their implementation of the agreement. In other words—

Mr. Gromyko argues that the council should trust the contracting parties to execute their bond; thus, according to him, any casting of aspersions on the Soviet Union's sincerity is inimical to the cause of peace. It is this facet of a raft of speculation, of course, which is posing many $64 questions.

Cadets See Beautiful Coast Scenery

H.M.C.S. Crescent, with 30 cadets from Royal Roads naval college aboard, is shown nosing her way up beautiful, 40-mile-long Bute Inlet. The Crescent returned Monday from a 450-mile training cruise to Comox, Bute Inlet and Powell River. (See story on Page 2).

U.K. to Cut Expenditures 31 Per Cent; Dalton Says Budget Nearly Balanced

LONDON (CP)—A 31 per cent reduction of the United Kingdom's expenditures in the fiscal year 1946-47 was the main feature of the budget, brought down in the House of Commons today by Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Mr. Dalton estimated the coming year's expenditure at £3,837,000,000 ($17,074,650,000), compared with an actual expenditure for 1945-46 of £5,484,000,000.

He said the budget will not fall far short of being balanced, but declared flatly that failure to obtain the proposed £3,750,000,000 United States loan to Britain would mean amendment of some of his calculations and would entail drastic cuts in British imports.

Today's budget was the second presented by the Labor government since it took office last July. In October, Mr. Dalton brought down an interim budget which cut taxes somewhat.

Today the Chancellor referred to the financial year which ended March 31 as one of "transition from war to peace."

He said revenue for the year was £3,284,000,000 and estimated total revenue for the coming year at £3,193,000,000 for a projected deficit of £694,000,000—a figure considerably smaller than forecasts had estimated during recent days.

The estimated deficit represents a drop of £1,506,000,000 or 68 per cent.

RECORD BEER REVENUE

Records were established by the beer, tobacco and entertainment taxes, he said, with beer yielding £300,000,000, tobacco £400,000,000, and the entertainment duty £50,000,000. This added up to a total of £750,000,000.

The purchase tax, a war-time development, also set up a record at £118,000,000, while revenue duties at £243,000,000 fell short of the estimate by £22,000,000.

The income tax, which throughout the year had been at the unprecedented rate of 50 shillings in the pound, or 50 per cent of taxable income, was also at an all-time record. It produced £1,361,000,000.

A feature of the tax figures given by the Chancellor was that surtaxes on large incomes, the excess profits tax and the National Defence contribution together fell short of their estimated totals. A windfall for the government in its conversion from a war to peace economy was the receipt of £60,000,000 from sale of war stores.

Mr. Dalton said the actual expenditure for the fiscal year just ended was £3,484,000,000, or £81,000,000 less than had been estimated.

DEFICIT £230,000,000

The realized deficit for the year was £2,200,000,000, while towards financing this deficit, small savings produced £658,000,000 and national war bonds and savings bonds produced £1,290,000,000.

He said the treasury had spent £340,000,000 less of its vote of credit from Parliament than the £4,750,000,000 voted.

He did not regard the floating debt of nearly £6,500,000,000 as too large. "I see no reason to replace it by more expensive means of public borrowing," he said.

Mr. Dalton continued: "Prospects for the year 1946 are less sombre than some of the scribes have imagined. Estimated expenditure is £3,837,000,000, which is a reduction of £1,728,000,000 or 31 per cent on the estimate for last year."

MORE FOR EDUCATION

The budget calls for increases in expenditures on education, milk and meals for school children, housing, family allowances, old age and widows' pensions and development of the so-called distressed areas which the Chancellor said the government had power to bring up to the level of full employment and prosperity "which it is our aim to maintain throughout the country. I pledge my word that this job shall not fall down for lack of finance," he said.

There also will be increases for civil aviation and the forestry commission. He said allowances would be made for increased pay for the army, navy and air force and for more generous war pensions.

Legislature To Debate Motion On Racial Issue

Two private government members of the B.C. Legislature today will introduce into the B.C. Parliament a resolution urging that all persons of Japanese descent be repatriated to Japan.

The resolution will be proposed by A. C. Hope, Coalition member for Delta, and seconded by R. C. MacDonald, Coalition, Dewdney.

The resolution notes that for many years the births of almost all Japanese children have been registered with the Japanese consul, in order to maintain Japanese nationality, and thus make them amenable to Japanese law; that there is a Japanese law making all males liable for military service on attaining the age of 16; that the Japanese race is entirely unassimilable with any white race in Canada, and that repatriation is not deportation, but merely sending persons home as they are still Japanese nationals.

Mazerall, Willsher Committed For Trial On Espionage Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—In less than 10 minutes, two more persons were committed for trial today on espionage charges by Magistrate Glenn Strike.

Committed were Edward Willsher, 30, National Research Council engineer, and Mary Kathleen Willsher, deputy registrar in the office of the British High Commissioner to Canada.

They were the first persons linked with a Russian network of agents to be committed on conspiracy charges. Similar charges in other cases have been kept separate from those under the Official Secrets Act of 1939.

NO WITNESSES CALLED

Mazerall's case was called shortly before noon. He declined to call any witnesses or make a statement in his defence.

Mazerall, a native of Fredericton, attended University of New Brunswick. The first interim report of the Royal Commission on espionage said he had furnished two National Research Council documents on radar to Capt. D. G. Lunan, alleged head of a cell of agents working for Russia.

The report said the documents became public shortly after. The magistrate committed Mazerall both on charges under the Official Secrets Act of 1939 and one charge of conspiracy—five in all.

Unless he elects speedy trial he will face the spring assizes of the Ontario Supreme Court here in May.

His case lasted only four minutes. The magistrate then committed Mary Kathleen Willsher in the same way. She did not call witnesses or make any statement.

IN CANADA SINCE 1930

Miss Willsher, a native of London, Eng., allegedly disclosed the contents of secret documents to the Russians while she was deputy registrar in the office of the British High Commissioner. She came to Canada in 1930.

Both accused were detained Feb 15 and first charged in court March 4.

Their committals meant that of the 12 persons charged in Ottawa, three have been ordered to stand trial. Preliminary hearings in the other cases are in varying stages of progress.

The other committal was that of Capt. Lunan, a Canadian Information Service official.

Judge P. Madden later freed on bail both Mazerall and Miss Willsher. Mazerall was granted bail of $2,500 and bail for Miss Willsher was set at $1,500.

Sidney-Steveston Ferry Service Of C.P.R. To Be Resumed May 17

Resumption of the ferry service between Sidney and Steveston this season, giving a fast and direct service for automobiles and passengers over a break of four years on the short gulf route, was announced today by N. R. DesBrisay, assistant passenger traffic manager, Canadian Pacific Railway, of Winnipeg.

The ferry Motor Princess will maintain the service.

Actual date of the resumption of the double daily service, May 17, was released by Capt. Oliver J. Williams, manager of the B.C. Coast Service, following a conference with Mr. DesBrisay.

At the same time it was announced that June 15 next, Ss. Princess Victoria will be operated in conjunction with Ss. Princess Elaine on the Nanaimo-Vancouver route.

The postwar rush of tourist travel, the first season in which the travelling public is in a position to go where it wants, without the limitations of wartime restrictions, is uppermost in Mr. DesBrisay's mind at the moment.

Predicting a tremendous flow of tourist travel this summer, Mr. DesBrisay said: "We are placing the equipment we have at our disposal as advantageously as we can in order to give the travelling public the best service possible."

M.L.A.'s Cooling On Salary Raise

Several members of the B.C. Legislature, who previously had endorsed the principle of higher or tax-free seasonal indemnities, were today reported cooling to the suggestion.

It was indicated that this latest reaction may cause the government to defer any action to increase the salaries of provincial legislators at the present session, now in its last days. Opinion of government members, however, has not yet sufficiently crystallized to indicate definitely whether or not any action will be taken.

Earlier it had been reported that all but two legislators favored increasing their own wages and freeing them of taxation. Several cabinet ministers had also been reported as being in favor of higher indemnities. Now several Coalition members are becoming concerned that increasing their salaries may be taken unfavorably by the public when wages and salaries are still controlled by the Dominion government and when a campaign is underway to increase old age pensions.

Former Chief of Staff Of Iran Arrested

TEHRAN (AP)—Gen. Hassan Arfa, former Iranian chief of staff who was replaced after Premier Ahmed Qavam had taken office, was arrested here today on a charge of "subversive activities against the government."

Observers have termed him "unsympathetic" toward Russia. Reuter dispatches Monday said Qavam had ordered troops to the Caspian seaport province of Mazandaran, where reports told of an attempted coup d'etat.

Crescent Back At Esquimalt From Coast Training Cruise

H.M.C.S. Crescent, reached Esquimalt Monday from a 450-mile cruise up the B.C. coast which took her to Comox, Bute Inlet and Powell River.

For the 115 officers and men as well as 30 cadets from the R.C.N. college at Royal Roads, the visit to Powell River and the reception afforded the ship's company was overwhelming.

Met at the ship's side by J. Lunde of the Powell River Pulp and Paper Co., the officers and men of the Crescent were officially welcomed to the port by D. A. Evans, resident manager, and members of the Board of Trade, Canadian Legion and Federal government.

The planned entertainment which included a banquet for the ratings, was rounded out by many individual welcomes to homes of the citizens of Powell River. The company also provided organized tours through the mill.

As a return gesture, the ship held open gangway for the people of Powell River.

CADET TRAINING

For the 30 cadets from the R.C.N. College, many of whom are from Canada's eastern provinces, the cruise was designed to provide them with practical seamanship. While at sea, the cadets entered into ship's routine. They slept in hammocks, ate in their own messdeck, took a trick at wheel, learned radar, learned to handle lines while coming alongside and performed many other tasks, including polishing the ship's brightwork.

Under the command of Lt. Cmdr. C. F. Nixon, D.S.C., R.C.N., the Crescent is heavily armed, and can do well over 35 knots. She is 363 feet long and was built by John Brown in Glasgow and commissioned Sept. 10, 1945.

15 Pension Appeals By City Veterans Being Heard Here

In Victoria today, a three-man board is hearing the last of 15 pension appeals for disabilities suffered during World Wars I and II. The board members, now at the Empress Hotel, are H. A. Bridges, chairman, Dr. C. M. Keillor and Cmdr. N. Pickersgill.

Mr. Bridges, in an interview, explained the procedure for appeals. The pensions commission in Ottawa automatically gave a decision on documentary evidence, he said.

If the veteran is dissatisfied, he may go back to the commission and appeal its decision, or he may elect to go before an appeal board. The appeal board's decision is final, Mr. Bridges said, although, if the veteran appeals to the commission instead, he may make subsequent appeals if not satisfied.

Mr. Bridges pointed out the advantages of a veteran going before an appeal board. The appellant, Mr. Bridges said, has the advantage of seeing the board members personally and of producing his witnesses. An advocate is provided for the appellant, if he wishes. G. H. Sedger is the advocate in Victoria.

There are two appeal boards sitting throughout Canada all the time. Their decision has only to do with entitlement to pension and not to the amount of pension to be granted, Mr. Bridges said.

At present the boards sit only in the larger centres, of which there are approximately 23, but Mr. Bridges believed the boards would be sitting in smaller centres later on. The boards do not sit at regular intervals, but whenever there are cases to be heard.

The present pension appeal board system requires three members on the board. Prior to 1939, there were only two.

Board members are able to handle an appeal with fresh minds as none of them have anything to do with the case until it comes before them. If the appellant consents, one of the members hearing the case may be a person who has already sat on the case in Ottawa, but Mr. Bridges said it was not usual for appellants to want this.

Mr. Bridges and the two other board members will return to Vancouver tonight to hear further appeals there.

Nazi Defendants Get War Trials To Print Anti-Jew Propaganda

NOENBERG (AP)—Robert H. Jackson, chief United States prosecutor, charged before the International Military Tribunal here today that the defence was attempting to "disseminate anti-Semitic propaganda" through the war crimes trial and had committed a "flagrant case of contempt of court."

Jackson based his charges on an exhibit of documentary evidence which the Tribunal's presses had printed for defendant Alfred Rosenberg. Jackson contended the material, which he described as "violently anti-Semitic and irrelevant rubbish," had been submitted to the printers by Rosenberg's counsel after it had been rejected by the Tribunal.

Jackson's charges brought an immediate and sharp reaction from defence counsel, whose spokesman, tall, white-haired Dr. Rudolf Dix, replied with a suggestion that Jackson retract the charges.

"I stand on the facts," Jackson rejoined, and exhibited to the tribunal stapled copies of the rejected material.

Jackson read to the tribunal excerpts from Rosenberg's book of documentary evidence which characterized Jews as a "bastard population... arrogant, shrewd and crooked."

"The United States cannot print and disseminate to the press this violent anti-Semitism," Jackson declared. "The defence believes we are here to try the issue of the causes of anti-Semitism, with this tribunal as the sounding board. That is wrong. The issue is not Rosenberg's philosophy, but we are charging the murder of 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 Jews."

The United States prosecutor proposed shutting off printing facilities to the defence.

Rosenberg's counsel contended that the anti-Semitic passages read by Jackson were quotations from a French philosopher and were included in the printing order "by mistake."

The tribunal ruled that a special master be appointed to rule on the relevance of material submitted for printing.

Chile Objects To Statements On Fishing Industry

Remarks of Victoria's Chamber of Commerce vice-president, Walter Miles, concerning Chile's fishing industry, were objected to in a letter from Guillermo S. Ermendo, director of the Chilean information service, read at a meeting of the chamber's directors Monday.

At a previous meeting, Mr. Miles had expressed concern over Canada sending fishing vessels to Chile and aiding Chileans to improve their fishing industry. Mr. Miles felt Chile might offer stiff competition to Canada's fishing industry and he did not agree with Canada aiding Chile to do it.

Mr. Ermendo reassured the chamber Chile was merely trying to get more food for its home market. Chile could not offer competition to Canada in the fishing industry because her own grounds were not good enough, he added.

"You will get none of our fish. We are going to eat the same for the next 50 years," Mr. Ermendo wrote.

Mr. Miles said he did not intend to withdraw what he had previously said. Information he had received satisfied him Chile had good fishing grounds and could develop a fish production which would offer considerable competition to the Canadian industry, he said.

Choose your favorite kinds of BREAD at SAFEWAY

Most folks like a change in bread. Rye, cracked wheat, French, and whole wheat are some of the kinds that can bring new flavor to your table. Try offering two or more varieties of bread at each meal and see how interest picks up in this energy-rich food. It's easy to give your family its favorites when you select from the big bread display at Safeway.

How to put variety in your meals with bread

Take a loaf of bread, add a bit of ingenuity and you have something that will give a fillip to your daily menu.

Stew or creamed eggs, meat or fish take on a festive air when dressed up with one of these two bread winners.

BREAD STUFFING RING

Combine 2 quarts crumbled or cubed bread; 1/2 cup minced onion; 1 cup chopped celery; salt, pepper and poultry seasoning to taste; 1/2 cup melted meat dripping; 1 egg, beaten with 1 cup water or meat stock. (You may need a little more water, but don't make it soggy.) Pack stuffing into a well-greased ring mold, or shape it into a ring in a greased shallow pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes or until crispy-edged and firm. Fill with stew, creamed meat or leftover meat in gravy.

CRUSTY CUPS FOR CREAMED DISHES

Trim off crusts from slices of bread; brush lightly with soft butter; then press the slices, buttered side down, into large muffin pans. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 10 to 15 minutes, or until edges are lightly tinged with brown and cups are toasted enough to keep their shape. Serve hot, filled with creamed eggs, chicken or salmon.

MELBA TOAST

Use sliced bread or cut French bread into slices 1/4-inch thick; cut diagonally or in strips. For special occasions cut out figures from slices of bread with cookie cutters. Place on baking sheet in single layer. Dry out in very slow oven (250° F.) for 1 1/2 to 2 hours, or until very hard and golden-brown. Store in airtight container.

FOR HOT BREAD ENTHUSIASTS

Sprinkle the crust of a whole loaf or part of a loaf generously with water without separating the slices; place in paper sack. Heat in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Serve hot. And if you like garlic bread, butter the slices, rub with a clove of garlic, and then put the loaf back together. Heat piping hot and serve.

Red Cross Asks Bigger Membership

Although Victorians had given $37,000 to the Red Cross membership subscription drive at noon today, campaign officials were still anxious to enroll more members. Maj.-Gen. R. O. Alexander, drive chairman, pointed out that only 5,604 persons in Greater Victoria had joined the Red Cross during the campaign.

He said money was needed for comforts distributed by visiting committees in eight military and Department of Veterans' Affairs hospitals in British Columbia. During the last 12 months more than $30,000 had been spent in supplies such as cigarettes, gum, razor blades, books and games. "By joining the Red Cross," said Maj.-Gen. Alexander, "you can be sure this service for veterans is kept operating. No returned man lacks attention for every hospital has the Red Cross branch in the district with its visiting committee."

More Licenses For Vehicles in 1945

An increase of 326 licenses issued in B.C. for passenger and commercial vehicles during 1945 over the previous year is noted in statistics released today by the Motor Vehicle Branch of the B.C. Police.

Last year 132,282 licenses were issued and in 1944, 131,956. Of last year's total, 99,421 were for passenger cars and 32,861 for commercial vehicles. Comparison for 1944 was 99,063 passenger vehicles and 32,893 commercial.

Licensing of motorcycles in 1945 was not as high as in the previous years. In 1945, 2,506 motorcycles were licensed and in 1944, 3,134 which is a difference of 628.

Licensing of trailers, however, was up. Last year 6,276 trailer licenses were issued. This was 737 more than the 1944 figure.

Motor vehicle transfers in 1945 were 2,725 less than in 1944. Totals were 46,841 compared with 49,566. License substitutions amounted to 1,332 in 1945 and 1,382 in the preceding year.

The number of chauffeurs' licenses issued in 1945 was higher by 6,137 than the number issued in 1944. There were 25,252 in 1945 and 23,115 in the year before.

Drivers' examinations in 1945 were 21,282 and in 1944, 15,770, a difference of 5,512.

Daylight Time In 3 Prairie Cities, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto

By Canadian Press
The old hubbub of city and town councils from coast to coast — daylight saving time — has raised its head now that government wartime controls have been relaxed and the daylight saving decision has been thrown back into the laps of municipal councillors.

The overall result is that without a government decree setting clocks ahead during the summer months, Canadian cities present a hodge-podge picture from the end of April to the end of September. Even among cities which have decided to adopt daylight time, there is discrepancy in the dates during which it is observed.

Generally in municipalities where clocks are to be put ahead for the five-month period, the dates have been set between April 28 and Sept. 29.

Daylight saving was instituted to save electric power during the war. The Dominion government's attitude is that daylight time is not a federal matter now and the issue reverts to the provincial and municipal arena.

Churchill Suggested Roosevelt Instill Fear of U.S. Into Japs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winston Churchill pressed the late President Roosevelt as early as February, 1941, to "instill in Japan anxiety" that a move toward Singapore would mean war with the United States.

This was disclosed today as the Senate-House committee investigating Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, was given new documents gathered from State Department and White House files.

One document was a message from the then-British Prime Minister to Mr. Roosevelt, dated Feb. 15, 1941, expressing concern that "the Japanese mean to make war on us, or to do something which would compel us to make war on them, during the next few weeks or months."

Mr. Churchill added: "Whatever you are able to do to instill in Japan anxiety as to a double war may succeed in averting this danger. Nevertheless, should war alone be attacked, it would be difficult to overstate the grave character of the consequences."

Legislature Closes Thursday Or Friday

First session of the 21st Legislative Assembly of British Columbia was moving this afternoon toward prorogation this week, Premier John Hart expecting to wind up the session which started in February by Thursday afternoon or Friday.

Some legislation is yet to be introduced, including amendments to the Constitution Act to permit increasing the size of the province cabinet from eight to 10 members.

B.C. Plates Given 3,035 Outside Cars

Influx of new residents to B.C. from other parts of Canada is shown in motor vehicle license figures released today by the B.C. police.

In the 1945 motor vehicle license year, 2,800 private and commercial cars and trucks were licensed with B.C. plates in place of licenses issued for them in seven other provinces and the Yukon.

Of the 2,800 "outside vehicles" coming to the province, 2,838 were passenger cars and 417 commercial.

Also 235 U.S. cars had license plates changed for B.C. plates. Two hundred and seven of them were passenger vehicles and 28 commercial.

Combining the Canadian and U.S. figures, total registration of cars previously registered elsewhere was 3,035; 2,590 passenger cars and 445 commercial vehicles.

Alberta cars topped the list in the B.C. registrations with 1,047 passenger cars and 204 commercial. Next was Saskatchewan with 599 passenger cars and 101 commercial. From Ontario were 369 passenger cars and 73 commercial; Manitoba, 290 passenger cars and 27 commercial; Quebec, 48 passenger, 4 commercial; Nova Scotia, 18 passenger, 1 commercial; New Brunswick, 16 passenger.

Will Not Change Liquor Control Act At Present Session

The B.C. government will not open the Liquor Control Act at the present session of the B.C. Legislature, it was learned at the Parliament Buildings today following a caucus Monday evening.

It was understood, however, that Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., would make a statement to the House before prorogation outlining plans of the government to investigate liquor problems and suggest changes for next year.

Modernization of the Liquor Act, including the suggestion beer and light wines be sold with meals in restaurants, had been suggested to the Legislature since last fall. Considerable opposition had been made by some groups.

By order-in-council the government, while not amending the present act, can make certain in the distribution methods of liquor, including increasing the number of vending stores.

Reject Inclusion Of Chiropractors And Naturopaths

A C.C.F. motion which would put naturopaths and chiropractors on the medical staff of the Workmen's Compensation Board was defeated in the B.C. Legislature Monday night although some support was won from government members.

Voting for the proposed amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Act were Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Victoria; Mrs. Tilly Rolston, Vancouver-Point Grey; C. W. Morrow, North Okanagan, and W. J. Johnson, Revelstoke.

Labor Minister George Pearson reported the board at present authorized chiropractic treatment when satisfied that good would result from it. He was convinced medical members of the board would not co-operate with naturopaths and chiropractors.

A. J. Turner, C.C.F., Vancouver East, sought to include domestic servants under provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act. Mr. Pearson indicated that domestic servants were not suitably well organized or classified to meet the present administrative requirements of the board.

Instalment Buying Control Planned By Provincial Law

The B.C. government is stepping into control of consumer credit with the introduction into the Legislature Monday afternoon of a message bill by Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer which would authorize the Lieutenant-Governor in council to make regulations controlling the purchases after the Wartime Prices and Trade Board's regulations have been lifted.

Sponsored by the Victoria Local Council of Women and the Retail Merchants' Association of British Columbia, the legislation will not come into effect until Prices Board regulations have been rescinded and will not be effected after prorogation of the first session of the B.C. Legislature in 1947.

The Prices Board measures at present require that on certain commodities consumers must pay one-third down and complete payment within 10 months.

Amendment to the Companies Act, also proposed by Mr. Wismer, provides that a non par value company which has accumulated assets greater than the original value of shares may convert into a par value company based on the accumulated value of such shares. Thus a company with 10,000 non par value shares which sold at $1 a share which has assets of $50,000 may convert into a par value company and sell shares for $5 each.

Salesmen dealing in "business chances," such as rooming houses will be brought under control of the Real Estate Agents Licensing Act in an amendment also introduced by Mr. Wismer.

Necessitated by establishment of a law degree course at University of B.C., amendment to the Legal Professions Act will provide that a graduate in law who has served one year in a law office may be admitted to the Bar. Heretofore any student with five years' experience in law who had passed three examinations in law could be admitted.

School Act Financial Changes Made Retroactive to April 1

A rural-urban division replaced the rural-urban division in the B.C. Parliament as legislators voted by show of hands on an amendment to the Public Schools Act which would set an education tax levy of 75 per cent of improvements in both rural and municipal areas.

Almost all sections of the 120-section amending bill were passed during the afternoon and evening sittings. The bill, one of the most complex and at the same time regarded as the most important to come before the present session, incorporates most of the recommendations of the Cameron Report on education finance.

While none of the amendments will come into effect until proclaimed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, Education Minister G. M. Weir indicated the financial arrangements, which relieve municipalities and rural areas of considerable burdens, would be effected as of April 1.

Led by W. A. C. Bennett, Coalition, South Okanagan, half a dozen government and C.C.F. members in committee opposed the passing of one section of the bill dealing with taxation. The remainder of the government and the C.C.F. members, including Opposition Leader Harold E. Winch, voted for the new tax levy for education.

Answering Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F., Mackenzie, Dr. Weir announced that if there were any surplus from the education tax levy, made up of 5 mills on 100 per cent assessment of land, and 75 per cent of improvements, it would go to consolidated revenues of the province.

"Is there any likelihood that taxes will be raised higher than they are now?" asked Sam Guthrie, C.C.F., Cowichan-Newcastle. Dr. Weir estimated only 10 per cent of the taxpayers would have to pay more. The saving to municipalities, he said, would exceed $2,000,000, while rural unorganized areas would benefit by $300,000.

If the tax is going to be increased, said Mr. Guthrie, the farmers were the least able to pay.

Mr. Bennett contended that the government in setting this education tax was taking a backward step because no levy was made on improvements now.

TO EQUALIZE BURDEN

Dr. Weir said some areas had been getting off easily and the principle was to equalize the burden of taxation.

"The farmers wanted relief," said Mr. Bennett. "I think they are not going to get any." He suggested the $300,000 contribution of the government to rural areas would be absorbed in higher teachers' salaries. The ultimate result, he contended, would be a worsening of conditions on farms.

"Why should I be assessed on my house in Vancouver when there is no tax on farms in rural areas," asked Mr. Winch.

Mr. Guthrie, disregarding his leader's statement, said farmers didn't have the money like city dwellers and that was the reason so few young persons were staying on the farms.

Mr. Gargrave contended Okanagan valley farmers were more prosperous than the average city dwellers. Finally members voted on rural-urban lines instead of by party affiliation.

Earlier the Public Schools Act amendments had been criticized by Mr. Bennett and C. W. Morrow, Coalition, North Okanagan, along with the C.C.F. because tremendous power was being put in the hands of school inspectors at the expense of local school boards.

Mr. Gargrave objected to the sections which would give school inspectors authority to assign teachers subject to the approval of the school trustees and exercise supervisory authority in all matters relating to school organization, instruction and discipline.

Mr. Morrow contended these powers should be held by the school boards.

"If school boards are not going to have full authority, are they going to have no authority?" Dr. Weir explained that it was not the intention of the government to have the inspectors interfere. In large school districts, he said, the inspectors would serve in capacities similar to municipal inspectors in Victoria and Vancouver at the present time.

He said the section had been endorsed by the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

Dr. Weir was supported by W. T. Strath, K.C., Coalition member for Victoria, and later by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, also Coalition, Victoria, who said:

"I would be the first to register my protest if I thought anything was going to be done to take power from the school trustees. I think they have done an excellent job."

Dr. Weir agreed the school board system had broken down considerably with more than 200 school districts now being administered by official trustees. He suggested that the trustees were not familiar with school organization, timetables and such matters, but inspectors were.

At the request of Mr. Winch a show of hands was called for on an amendment proposed by Mr. Morrow. The amendment was lost.

Discussing the setting up of larger school districts, Dr. Weir suggested the changes could not be made for two or three years if an attempt were made to iron out all the difficulties before the districts were set up. If the plans did not work out, he said, the districts may be changed by the Lieutenant-Governor in council.

R. Harding, C.C.F., Kaslo-Slocan, contended the government should put a floor under teachers' salaries rather than merely reducing grants if the payments by the local boards were not satisfactory. The section dealing with this issue was tabled.

An amendment introduced by E. E. Winch, C.C.F., Burnaby, which would have given school boards authority to provide schools for the deaf and blind and to insure, through special classes, adequate education of children threatened with deafness or blindness, was defeated after Dr. Weir had claimed that what Mr. Winch suggested would cost between $300,000 and $500,000, in conjunction with two other proposals introduced by Mr. Winch which also were defeated. One would have authorized establishment of kindergarten classes for two to six-year-olds, and the other the establishment of special classes for children with intelligence quotients of less than 80.

"This everlasting question of cost!" exclaimed Mr. Winch. "The cost is there, and it has to be faced by society sooner or later. If a child drops behind, he soon becomes a school problem, and later a social problem."

"On our own figures, Mr. Minister, there are 8,000 of these children in B.C., and nothing is done about it outside of Victoria and Vancouver."

THE LONG-TERM VIEW

AS THE DAY APPROACHES WHEN Greater Victoria will embark on a new development in educational co-ordination through consolidation of existing school districts, it becomes increasingly important to view the issue in its long-term aspects. The change will entail reorganization on a large scale. In one instance, as far as this region is concerned, it will require some financial sacrifice. But, in years to come, the advantages of amalgamation will be proved not only from the point of view of efficiency and expansion of educational opportunities, but in actual cash savings to the municipalities involved.

On the basis of its present assessment, Oak Bay will suffer a recession in the financial compensation it receives from the government for educational purposes. Improvement in that condition, however, will occur with the anticipated equalization of assessments for which preparations are now being made. Furthermore, as more smaller homes are built in that municipality and a larger number of school-age children come within its borders, the monetary disadvantage of the consolidation will disappear and, in time, the district will enjoy a greater share of the assistance provided by the province.

The city, Esquimalt and the sections of Saanich which come within the jurisdiction of the proposed consolidated district, will all gain materially from the change.

The above considerations are related only to the financial questions involved. Educationally, all municipalities should derive benefits almost immediately. In the larger unit it will be possible, for instance, to establish particular high schools specializing in commercial courses, technical training and other subjects too costly for the individual municipalities to maintain. At present, students from outside districts enjoy the wider variety of the city curriculum only by paying special fees to attend Victoria High. Moreover, duplications now exist which could be virtually eliminated if provision were made for students from one locality to attend the school specializing in any particular line of study.

In the mass of detail work required by consolidation, one element will be of specific local importance. The individual school boards of Greater Victoria will disappear, yielding place to a larger body, which, according to present understanding, will include nine members, four from the city, two from Oak Bay, two from Saanich and one from Esquimalt. A revision of such a nature might provoke an attitude of wounded pride among those trustees who are required to give up their posts. That reaction would be readily understood. But it must be noted that school trustees, in this community at least, have shown in the past an overwhelming desire to serve the interests of the young people in their territory. That wish has relegated to secondary place the personal pride they take in their positions. It is safe to assume that the broad-minded men and women who now occupy seats on local boards will step down with good grace in appreciation of the educational benefits the consolidated area assures.

WITHOUT POLITICAL INTENT

IT HAS BEEN THE OPINION OF THE Canadian people generally, unless our estimate is far wide of the mark, that food supplies sent to areas threatened by starvation have been sent from this Dominion to meet the immediate needs of the unfortunate. The suggestion that wheat from this country is being used as a political weapon will come as a shock to the average citizen. It has been implied that the cereal has been so placed as to offset Communist expansion in lands where succor to the hungry might ensure political support for the power which extended aid, specifically in France.

This is the approach which commentators subjected to withering fire when Maurice Thorez, head of the Communist Party in France, announced an offer from the U.S.S.R. to make available 500,000 tons of wheat and 100,000 tons of barley to the French. The statement by M. Thorez was made before the French Foreign Office had been informed.

In the Washington Post of recent date Columnist Marquis Childs had this to say:

"By permitting Thorez to make this gesture in a frank bid for Communist votes in France, the high command of the Politburo in Moscow has shown its hand more openly than at any time in the recent past. It is almost too crude."

The contrast with the other nations that fought the war is too sharp. England, the United States, Canada and Australia have been putting their surplus food into a common pool. Part of it goes to Russia. It is distributed to needy people regardless of their politics. It goes to Italy, Yugoslavia, Poland and Greece.

It is, of course, obvious that any bid for cupboard-love allegiance would be offset by the distribution of supplies from other sources. To suggest, however, that Canadian wheat was specifically diverted to those areas where assistance from Russia promised to gain her line of political thought ascendancy over another, would be, we submit, contrary to the intent of the Canadian people. Action of that nature implies a callousness in considering the lives of the needy. We are unwilling to think that Canadian wheat is knowingly being used for political pressure on that people or on the Dominion. In their readiness to help those on the verge of starvation, would countenance such an ulterior move. The humanitarian urge is the guiding force.

A SHOWER AND A RAINBOW

THAT ENERGETIC BODY OF YOUNG women who devote so much of their time to promoting the welfare of the Queen Alexandra Solarium no doubt appreciated the significance of the second line to the couplet which they chose as their slogan for this month's public appeal. They call the current campaign their April shower of dimes. And from it will come the flowers of happier and more useful lives as little ones at Mill Bay are helped to overcome the physical deficiencies from which they suffer.

It seems almost unnecessary to voice a plea for support of this objective. It is not a demand made on the public. It is an invitation to participate in a heart-warming undertaking. The collection will unquestionably meet expectations.

Once again we are in the season of the Solarium's April shower and there is a rainbow of hope shining through it as the public takes the opportunity of confirming the faith of the courageous young invalids who have learned to depend confidently on citizens throughout British Columbia for help. It is, too, the time of planting, and the dimes and dollars invested will yield rich harvest in the restoration of young bodies to useful citizenship through the inspiring work accomplished at the Malahat centre.

DIVORCE NOT PRACTICAL

FOR THE SAKE OF ARGUMENT WAGE and price controls can be regarded as a shot-gun marriage instituted during the war. Both contracting parties may now be clamoring for a divorce. But fortunately or unfortunately, according to the point of view, they are wards of the government and, to free one and keep the other in durance to its guardian, has recently proved in the United States even beyond the capabilities of such a good-natured man as President Truman. The fact is that wages and prices are indissolubly united by economic necessities whether they like it or not. Their constant and clamorous quarrels are largely due to their inability to recognize the bonds imposed upon them by their relationship. The government was forced to impose a strict guardianship over them during the war in order to ensure production of the right goods in the right place at the right moment. During the period of reconversion it cannot free one and keep the other under strict control. Even when reconversion is fully accomplished, which is a far cry as yet, it will not be possible to operate a free wage economy within a controlled price framework. Proposals toward that end may be designed to shift the blame for the inflation that would be inevitable onto the shoulders of the government for not controlling prices. But in the long run the attempt to divorce wages from prices will only lead public opinion to conclude that both must be forced to live amicably together, not in irresponsible freedom but in partnership for production.

It should only be necessary to call attention to the experience of the United States in the last six months to suggest that when divorce has been proven impracticable, it is better to try mutual accommodation to conditions.

A LEGACY

THE LAST PRESIDENT OF THE LEAGUE of Nations' Assembly, Carl J. Hambro, of Norway, opened its final session with a eulogy to the Allied war leaders whose "vision and victory" "fused into a new body all the enduring assets, moral and material" which had accumulated from "the imponderable experience of 25 years."

It is true to state that the experience of the League was without weight when balanced in the scales of justice and equity, but it is right to claim that it was not without light on the weaknesses which created disintegration. President Wilson had placed his faith on the Covenant of the League and embodied the Covenant in the Peace Treaties which the United States then disavowed. That disavowal eliminated the most weighty force in support of the League in any attempt to use sanctions, the only weapon in its armory, as a means to the objective of peace. In the light of the League's experience, the United Nations has been established with the Security Council as the force to maintain peace, and the charter of the United Nations has a priority over the terms of peace which have yet to be drawn.

Other enduring bequests which pass to the United Nations are the International Labor Office and the Health Organization, both of which have survived the war as assets of incalculable value. While the attention of the world is naturally focussed on the Security Council, the fact that other departments of the United Nations are getting to work under the guidance of the Secretariat, headed by Mr. Trygve Lie, is apt to be forgotten. It is through the functioning of these other bodies that the United Nations will gain that strength and prestige, which is so difficult to envision, so long as the difficulties created by political and economic disintegration require immediate settlement.

The League of Nations failed but it undoubtedly gave birth to a new and more experienced determination to save from destruction those enduring moral and material assets which provide the security for human values.

Atomic Control

By W. R. CLARKE

RARELY HAS a report been publicly accepted and approved as quickly as that of the Lilienthal committee on the international control of atomic energy. Within a week it gained recognition as a brilliant study of the problem and as offering a start towards a method of assuring the new force will not be used destructively but will be universally available for the benefit of man.

Perhaps the overwhelming desire of America to find a way out of the atomic danger accounts in part for the quick approval. The existence of the new power has been rated here as the world's greatest danger and as the most difficult problem in all history. This view has been built on the foundation laid in Japan by the four months' hearings of the Senate atomic committee and by the campaign of education conducted by the scientists who worked on the Manhattan project.

THE UNITED STATES has closely guarded the secret "knowhow" of the bomb but it has been no secret that other nations would find it within a few years. Then there would be an armaments race in the most terribly destructive weapon that has ever been imagined. Armaments races always end in war. Having the secret has been like holding onto a tiger's tail: to let go would be death and to hold on would merely prolong the agony of waiting for the inevitable result.

The agreement reached last November by the Atomic Big Three—Canada, Britain and the U.S.A.—and accepted by the United Nations merely set forth the principle of international control and sketched out a manner in which it might be attempted. The Lilienthal report adopts the principle, accepts the theory of gradual development of control and disclosure of secrets but brings the method into precise terms made possible by further scientific discovery.

THE REPORT modestly states its recommendations are no more than "a place to begin, a foundation on which to build."

The crux of the proposal rests on the theory, declared by scientists to be indisputably a fact, that only two materials, uranium and thorium, are fissionable and the latter can be used for bombs only in conjunction with the former; and that uranium can be denatured or so modified in structure that it cannot be used for bomb-making but can be used for industrial purposes. The problem thus centres on uranium.

The weakness of previous proposals, including the ABC agreement, is that maintenance of a world inspection system over the use of fissionable materials would be impractical. Even if put into practice it would be ineffective. It would require hundreds of thousands of inspectors, all subject to normal human feelings.

BUT THE DENATURING of uranium reduces the inspection problem to a comparatively simple one. It means that only the sources of raw uranium would need to be controlled and inspected. The proposal is that all uranium deposits be placed under the direct control of the United Nations atomic commission, thereby establishing a world monopoly in raw uranium. The atomic commission establishment would mine it and process it to make it denatured and then issue it to all nations for industrial uses.

The questions which arise are: Is it correct that uranium and thorium are the only fissionable materials? The report answers that at present that is the case and science sees no prospect of it being altered for many decades.

Is it correct that uranium can be denatured? Scientists declare it can be proven.

CAN AN INSPECTION system even on this more limited scale be made effective? The report answers that the known high-concentrate quantity deposits of uranium are few. The atomic committee would maintain constant geological surveys in the geological areas where such deposits are possible.

Can the denatured uranium be reconverted to bomb material? The committee reports scientists as declaring it might possibly be done but that it would require tremendous scientific brains, a huge reversion plant and at the very least two years of operation. Doing so could not be kept secret very long.

One aspect of the report not yet discussed is that of whether or not those nations having uranium deposits will yield them to United Nations ownership. The nations without uranium, which include the United States, will have no difficulty agreeing. Those with the mineral may very well consider that they are being asked to give up something that is just as valuable as the supposedly secret "know-how" to which the United States is holding tenaciously.

THE URANIUM without the secret cannot, at present, be made into bombs; but the secret without the uranium is equally useless for bomb-making.

Still, if a psycho is one who seems queer, different, a large proportion of us were born psychos.

DR. SHRUM'S LECTURE

Through an unfortunate error in the date not being given in the item appearing in the Times Friday, I have had several phone calls today from persons desiring to hear Dr. Shrum, and not being sure of the correct date. The lecture on "The Atomic Bomb" will be delivered on Monday, April 15, at 8.15, in Victoria College.

KEEPER OF THE BEES

Victoria has lost a valuable citizen through the sudden passing of Mr. A. H. Curtis.

He was a remarkable bee expert, and was always ready to impart his lore and to give generous help to the amateur beekeeper in trouble.

By "hitting" a hive, he could accurately estimate its honey store, and he once told me that he could assess the general condition of a colony of bees from its scent arising through the top aperture, and by observing the spirit of the flying bees.

Those who had the privilege of attending his summer course of talks at the City Hall will long remember his profound knowledge of the science of bee-keeping in all its branches, his clarity of thought and his felicity of diction.

He was a very able lecturer, could hold his audiences spell-bound even if they were not particularly interested in bees, and could tell eager questioners exactly what they wanted to know, with an admirable economy of words.

He will be sadly missed by many who have enjoyed his friendship and who have benefited from his expert advice and unsparing help in emergency. ROBERT HOLLAND.

H. Winch to Dr. Green, saying "They knew you were coming," imagine trying to clean a "dirty" institution with two or three rooms—hence, containing 130 single bedrooms, 20 dormitories with 157 beds, day wards, dining rooms, hundreds of feet of corridors, and then the verdict: "spotless," without, as a recent visitor remarked, the usual "institutional odor."

Protest Division of Families Result of Immigration Laws

Prompted by a specific case brought to the attention of the meeting, the Local Council of Women unanimously passed a resolution Monday afternoon protesting against certain technicalities in Canadian immigration laws.

Miss Eileen Hart, convener of the immigration committee, presented the resolution, which read:

"Whereas technicalities in Canadian immigration laws may now place husband, wife and children in different categories, separating families and causing inconvenience and distress, it is resolved: The Dominion government, when making new immigration laws, and interpreting those which now exist, place emphasis on the family as a unit, so as to allow desirable family groups to enter the country undivided."

A copy of this resolution will be sent to Prime Minister MacKenzie King, R. W. Mayhew, M.P.; A. L. Joffe, chief controller of Chinese immigration, and the National Council of Women.

Club Calendar

St. John's W.A. Colwood, Wednesday at 2:30 in Colwood Hall. Final plans for spring sale, April 24. . . St. Paul's W.M.S. Thursday at 2:30. Rev. J. K. Jespersen, West Indies Mission, a visitor from Seattle, will show chromo-kodak slides of Haiti and Cuba.

Parents' Meeting—The Second Cathedral Parents' Group held a meeting in the Scout headquarters with a whist game following a business meeting. The next meeting will be held May 6.

Exciting the council to action is problem faced by Mrs. M. Gilchrist, who is being forced, through the existing immigration laws, to return to China, while her husband, two sons and a daughter may remain in Canada. Mrs. Gilchrist, of Chinese lineage, and married to a Scotsman, has been a British subject for the past 30 years, living in the British Isles and latterly in China. She and her husband were interned following the fall of Shanghai and were repatriated a short while ago to Victoria to join their sons and daughter.

Details of Mrs. Gilchrist's case and a copy of the resolution are being forwarded by the council to the British Consul-General in Ottawa.

Mrs. Bertha Parsons presided at the meeting. Mrs. G. Anstey was appointed liaison officer for the W.P.T.B. on the resignation of Mrs. J. M. Thomas.

Other reports were presented by Mrs. Blair Reid on the Chinese Society meeting, and Mrs. Hugh McKenzie, Recreational Council meeting.

Anne Marriott Addresses Authors

Miss Anne Marriott, who is spending a short holiday at her home in Victoria, addressed the local branch of the Canadian Authors' Association recently, telling of her work with the National Film Board at Ottawa, which has grown from an initial staff of three to a wartime organization of 600.

The speaker described the work of the various film-producing units which issued films for such series as Canada Carries On, World in Action, News Reel and News Clips, released for national distribution. She stressed the high ideals of the National Film Board, itself staffed with the talent of many races, in its efforts to weld the country's racial minorities into one strong Canadian people.

Mrs. Eric Forster gave an outline of her work as a copywriter in the national advertising department of a large record organization in Montreal. She described the differences between literary creative writing and commercial writing.

Mrs. Robin Breach reviewed H. Wakefield Maunsell's poetry chapbook, "These Walls." Miss Eugenie Perry reported on a meeting of the International Drama Festival.

Officers Elected—At the April meeting of Lake Hill subdivision, Catholic Women's League, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. L. S. Heather; first vice-president, Mrs. Z. Webb; second vice-president, Mrs. J. Hanley M.R.; councillors, Mesdames E. E. Service, G. Hutchinson, J. Hourigan; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. Dobbie.

MAJOR AND MRS. D.A. McNAUGHTON, E.D., AND GARY

Maj. McNaughton, who has been manager of the C.I.L. plant at Selkirk, Man., for the past five and a half years, retired on April 1, after 44 years' service with Canadian Industries Limited.

Starting as a chemist with Victoria Chemical Co. Ltd. in 1902, Maj. McNaughton was made resident engineer of that plant and also of Tunstall Bay plant, Bowen Island, in 1912. In 1914 he was sent as construction engineer to Nobel plant near Pelly Sound, Ont., on construction of gun cotton and cordite plant. He returned to the west coast as construction engineer at Victoria and James Island in 1916, and at the close of the first World War, became resident engineer at James Island and, later, assistant works manager, a position he held until the outbreak of the last war, when he joined his regiment, the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, R.C.A. From there he went to Selkirk, Man.

Maj. McNaughton's family has been resident in Victoria since 1857. His father, Capt. D. G. McNaughton, S.G., was one of the three original officers of Victoria Battery, Garrison Artillery.

Mrs. McNaughton has been active in women's organization work. During her stay in Selkirk, she was a member of the air force auxiliary, the senior hospital aid of which she was a past president, the Red Cross, St. John Ambulance and the Manitoba Association Registered Nurses.

Maj. and Mrs. McNaughton, with their young son Gary, expect to make their home in Victoria.

Toronto Conservatory Alumni Plan First Group Appearance

The concert to be given by Victoria members of the Toronto Conservatory Alumni on April 26, at Victoria High School, is attracting the attention of musical circles in Victoria.

Presented under the joint auspices of the Alumni and Chapter "N" of the P.E.O. Sisterhood, the net proceeds will be devoted to relief in Europe, and forwarded through the Unitarian Relief Service.

Although individual members of the Alumni are well-known to musical audiences here, this concert will mark their initial appearance as a group representing the conservatory, and consequently no effort has been spared to make this appearance an auspicious one, artistically and musically.

Gwendoline Harper, pianist, now studying for her M.A. in Musicology at the University of Washington, will be heard in a group of compositions by Rameau, Couperin, and Debussy. Miss Harper will include these numbers in her recital to be given in Seattle in May, when she will receive her B.A. Degree in Applied Music.

Of wide appeal will be the performance of the first movement of Grieg's Piano Concerto in A minor, with Miriam Beals as soloist. The orchestral accompaniment will be played by Una Cartwright at the second piano.

Vocal soloists will include: Thelma Johns, well-known Victoria soprano; Merle Chandler, contralto, and Agnes Simpson formerly soprano soloist, Christ Church Cathedral, Hamilton, Ont.

A group of singers: Mrs. T. W. A. Gray, Mrs. H. F. Lasenby, Misses Isabelle Pike, A. Pauline Russel and Marjorie Fanstone, will add variety to the program with their charming madrigals. Also of interest is the two piano ensemble, eight hands, under the direction of Stanley Shale, A.R.A.M., with Marjorie Fanstone, Mrs. D. L. Gilbert, Florence Phillimore, and Mrs. Stanley Tidbury.

Accompanists for the evening will include Mrs. H. B. Milburn, Mrs. T. Dixon and Edgar Holloway.

Assisting the president of the Alumni, Miss Noel Smith, with the arrangements are the following members: Mrs. C. S. Beals, Miss Helen Gibson, Mrs. H. F. Lasenby, and representing the P.E.O. Chapter, Mrs. W. H. Hickman and Mrs. T. W. A. Gray.

An excellent speaker on a large number of subjects, she was financed across the Atlantic by the British Board of Information and the general board of Religious Education and Dominion W.A. is financing her tour across Canada.

Miss Marindin has traveled widely in European countries and has been a girls' club leader in Jerusalem. From May 20 to June 21 she will be helping to conduct the training course for youth leaders which is to be held at St. Hilda's College, Toronto, under the auspices of the Extension Department of the University of Toronto.

Protection Asked For Domestic

The question of domestic servants coming under the Workmen's Compensation Act cropped up again in the Legislature last night when Arthur J. Turner, C.C.F., Vancouver East, spoke on his amendments to that measure. He thought there should be protection for domestics to keep them from reverting to the status of a slavery type as some employers treated them.

Labor Minister Pearson was sympathetic and had given the matter a great deal of thought but was not able to persuade others that inclusion of domestics was feasible. There were indications that domestic workers were gradually reaching a higher classification. There should be a proper standard of grading.

The greatest handicap to be encountered in bringing them under the act was the extreme difficulty of estimating their yearly income, especially if they were casual employees. The question of administrative difficulty had to be considered, in case of absence of reports from employers.

It was a real problem. Almost every country in the world that had such an act excluded farm laborers and domestics on this account. Mr. Pearson could not advise acceptance of the amendment.

Plans Completed For Easter Bazaar

The regular meeting of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club was held Monday evening with Mrs. Lillian Smith in the chair.

Final plans were made for the Easter bazaar, tea and bridge to be held Saturday at the Y.W.C.A. under the auspices of the club. Miss Margaret Wightman, convener, reported that Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., will open the affair at 2.30. There will be novelty, aprons, home cooking and white elephant stalls and afternoon tea will be served. Bridge is planned for the evening with Mrs. H. N. Walls, G. 7873, in charge of reservations. Zelotes Business and Professional Club is assisting with arrangements.

A special guest at the meeting was Miss Ellen Hart who gave a resume of the recent meeting of the Interim Committee for Overseas Relief. Mrs. Smith reported on the Women's Regional Advisory Council Conference in Vancouver, which she attended as a representative for the club. One new member, Mrs. Mary Webb, was accepted and Miss Elsie Richard, a former member, returned to active membership.

Letters were read from the Coventry Business and Professional Women's Club in England expressing thanks to the Victoria club for three parcels of gifts sent from the Christmas party held here.

First Shipment For European Relief

Members in charge of arrangements, left to right: Miss H. Gustafson, Miss E. B. Hill, Mrs. J. Parsons, Mrs. H. Christopherson, Mrs. G. Langford, Mrs. C. A. Williams, Mrs. H. Benson, Mrs. J. M. LeMarquand, Mrs. J. H. Smith and Mrs. H. Johnson.

Big Tourist Year Anticipated Here

A bumper crop of tourists is expected to descend on Vancouver Island this summer with hotels, auto camps, resorts and rail and steamship lines receiving queries by the thousands and taking reservations at a steady rate.

"This will be the heaviest tourist travel year since before the war," says R. J. Burland, C.P.R. general passenger agent.

From every part of Canada and the United States queries are pouring in on where to go and what to see. Whether fishing, swimming, golfing, boating, riding, tennis or just basking in the sun is the traveler's idea of a holiday, he will find some spot on the island or some resort to suit his needs.

"We anticipate a very heavy travel season, but the big problem will be accommodation," a spokesman for the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau said. "We are making hotel reservations now for July and all the up-island resorts are booking for the vacation period."

"Reservations in advance will be the order more than ever this year or people are liable to be left out," said George L. Warren of the bureau.

Heavy traffic by automobile not only on the island but throughout British Columbia, is indicated in the letter inquiries being received from all parts of Canada and the United States by the B.C. Travel Bureau.

"Call it war weariness, but people want a holiday and we are expecting a bumper year insofar as the tourist traffic is concerned," one hotelman said. "Many will be coming from the United States, but there will be a lot of visitors from the prairies. We are taking reservations for July and August now."

Auto courts are receiving reservations for the summer as they are coming in much earlier this year than last.

"There will of course be an upswing in the motor travel and most of our inquiries are coming from the United States," manager of one auto court said.

One downtown hotel expects no change from last year, when it was packed during the holiday season, while others feel that the demand will be still greater this year, particularly from such points as Washington and California.

"We are anticipating an extremely heavy summer," said G. C. Parrott, traffic manager of Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd. "We have received a number of inquiries on bus services throughout the island."

Gay Millinery at Show

TORONTO (CP)—A far cry from the austerity designs of the war years was a bevy of spring hats displayed today at a fashion show.

There wasn't a crown in a carload. The hats were big, gorgeous and flattering, heaped with flowers and tied with ribbons.

Except for one strictly tailored brown straw classic, the hats had all the subtlety of a brass band, in contrast to the neutral shades of most of the high fashion clothes.

Christ Church—Business meeting of Christ Church Cathedral A.Y.P.A. was held, with the president, M. McCulloch, in the chair. Rev. T. L. Leadbeater addressed the group on an excerpt from the scriptures. Plans were discussed for the variety show to be held April 26. It was announced that, beginning April 12, there will be badminton every Friday in Memorial Hall, at 8.

Prospect Lake—The monthly meeting of Prospect Lake Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the schoolroom, Wednesday. The speaker will be the principal of Mount View High School and his subject, "High School Education."

Fish and Game Association Plan Sports Park At Goldstream

The plan of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association to take over approximately 50 acres of Goldstream Park and develop it as a sports and recreation area will receive the endorsement of the water board and go before Monday's council meeting for consideration.

Ald. J. A. Worthington, board chairman, indicated after members of the city council and the organization had inspected the area in question.

On the inspection trip to the park area, which is approximately 12 miles out of the city on the Island Highway were Ald. Worthington, Mayor Percy George, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, Ald. Edward Williams, G. M. Irwin, city engineer; F. Hughes, president of the Fish and Game Association, Stan Ross, Thomas Lumsden, J. E. Neely, Thomas Dix, Ray Ritchie and Bert Waude.

At a meeting Monday night the Fish and Game Association empowered its executive to draft an agreement for presentation to the city council regarding the park site after hearing a report from Mr. Ritchie.

The Fish and Game representatives were enthusiastic over what they saw.

Film Council

At the meeting of the Greater Victoria Film Council the constitution of the council was decided upon and approved. Eighteen showings have been given by the Volunteer Projection Service.

The council is sponsoring a film forum on juvenile delinquency in the city council chambers May 3.

Films recently added to the Victoria Public Library collection include, "Colleenland to Canada," "Australia Is Like This," "Looking Through Glass and Television."

Film showings for the week are: Wednesday, St. John's Church; Thursday, Technocracy Inc. and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Young People's Society; Friday, Victoria Electrical Association; Sunday, Federation of Russian Canadians; Monday, Technocracy Inc.; Tuesday, C.C.F. Group.

Next meeting of the council will be held the first Thursday in May at the Chamber of Commerce.

Dorothy Dix

WIVES NEED HELP

Dear Miss Dix—Do you think I am wrong in expecting a little help from my husband on Sunday mornings? He works five days a week, eight hours a day, and when he gets home at night, he just eats, reads the paper and rests. He positively refuses to do anything on Sunday. Says it is a day of rest that God ordained for man.

We have a two-month-old baby who needs so much of my attention and I get so tired doing all of the housework and cooking and taking care of her that I have asked him to help straighten out the house on Sundays, but he refuses. He also has informed me that later on, when the baby doesn't need so much attention, that he expects me to get a job.

Am I wrong in thinking that my husband doesn't love me or he wouldn't feel this way?

Answer: Evidently your husband is one of the men who never loves anybody but himself or considers anybody's pleasure and comfort except his own. Probably he has a kindly feeling towards you, such as he would feel for a good work horse or any other beast of burden, but it is not enough to make him lift a finger to lighten your labor.

WORK NEVER DONE

Your husband, you say, works five days a week and eight hours a day. That gives him two days off and 40 hours a week work. You work seven days a week and practically 24 hours a day, because any mother with a young baby is on the job all the time, with no Sundays or holidays off. Certainly the poet who wrote: "Man works from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done," said a mouthful.

When you think of the inequality of the labor performed by the working man and the domestic woman, you marvel why women have stood it so long and why they haven't staged a sit-down strike for shorter hours and for fathers to share equally with mothers in rearing the children and take their turn at the dishwashing and floor-scrubbing. They would win out hands down, for the whole machinery of the world would stop if even for a single day no baby was washed or given its bottle, no meals were cooked, no beds made, no floors swept, no shirt laundered, nothing done that made home a place of rest and comfort instead of a shambles.

Maybe washing the dishes and taking the baby out in his pram and getting Junior off of Mama's neck for an hour are not a highly romantic love token for a husband to give his wife, but it is one so sure that she could draw money on it at the bank. For if a man loves his wife, he tries to ease the burden that wifehood lays upon her.

(1) Radar on wings was used by Allied bombers and blimps to crash the Luftwaffe, to bomb Nazi industry into extinction, to sink the U-boats and Japanese shipping, to guide aircraft with uttering accuracy on trans-oceanic flights. This was accomplished by scientists, technicians, engineers and others of the United Nations working in extreme secrecy and under armed protection 24 hours a day. Using the cathode ray oscilloscope, which is similar to the image tube in a television receiver, radar revealed the exact outlines of the enemy's forces or installations, through clouds, fog, great distances or darkness.

(2) Early in the development of radar it became necessary to determine the difference between a friendly ship or plane and one of the enemy. The British solved this difficulty through the development of the IFF—"Identify Friend or Foe." The plane wishing to make the distinction sends out a series of waves. From an enemy ship or plane, it is reflected back weakly. But a radar on a friendly craft returns a strong message, which is in a predetermined code.

(3) The Axis nations as well as the Allies used radar. Before landings could be made on enemy soil most successfully, Axis radars had to be jammed. And the radars of the Axis partners were jammed so effectively

Canning Coupons Valid On May 2

First half of the 10-pound allotment of sugar for home canning, will be available to consumers with the validating of sugar-preserve coupons $8 to $12 May 2, according to word received by A. B. Food, local foods ration office, War-time Prices and Trade Board, today.

Provision for the purchase of the second half of the allotment will be made July 4, when five more sugar-preserve coupons, $17 to $21, will become valid. These 10 coupons will be in addition to the two regular S coupons valid monthly during May, June and July.

Quota users who house permanent guests, may also apply for canning in addition to their regular sugar-preserve quota, provided they obtain S coupons from their residents, Mr. Food said. However, no coupons may be detached from the residents' ration books for this purpose without

Tells of People Canadians Met While Overseas

Stories about the folk Canadians met during the war in the British Isles and continental Europe, their habits and peculiarities, were given by Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, city medical health officer, in an address to members of the Victoria Gyr Club at Monday's luncheon.

Dr. Anderson recruited the 11th Field Hygiene Section in Victoria and as O.C., with the rank of major, took the section overseas with the 5th Canadian Armored Division. A year and a half ago he was appointed to a position in the 2nd Canadian Corps with the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Dr. Anderson made reference to the newly-formed Victoria unit of the B.C. branch of the Cancer Society, of which he is vice-president. He spoke of the forthcoming April drive to secure funds for the branch, which aims to educate the public on the disease, give treatment and conduct research on cancer, which was the second all-round highest cause of death in the province in 1945. Early cancer, he said, can be cured and emphasized the need of catching the disease in its early stages.

He had great praise for the courage and spirit of the English people during the dark days of the blitz, pictured the way the people of Norfolk rather feared the arrival of Canadians for manoeuvres. They "looked themselves in" but soon opened their doors and hearts to the Canadians. Speaking of Scotland, he personally thought the people of Glasgow the most hospitable he had met in the British Isles.

Dr. Anderson gave his audience an insight into the conditions in the villages and towns of south Italy. The south and north were two entirely different places, the north modern, the south a primitive world. Regarding Naples, he said, the city had taken a bad beating from the war, "but all the dirt I saw there had not assembled in the last few years." He told of poultry living in the same house as humans, of the donkey conveyances, women with water jugs on their heads.

He painted the Dutch as a very friendly people, but emphasized their bitterness toward the Germans, "which is only natural in view of what they suffered at the Nazi hands," the medical officer said. He quoted one woman as saying she believed the only solution to keep Ger-

British Not Imperialistic McGeer Tells Canadian Club

Canada must develop and bring settlers into the country's northwest for the area's protection, Senator G. G. McGeer, K.C., of Vancouver, told the Canadian Club at a luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel Monday.

In a speech entitled "Canada and the Empire at Present," Senator McGeer struck at "malicious and false attacks" on British imperialism by persons who at the same time praised Russia, a country which was also an empire. He referred to Russian demands for concessions before entering the war against Japan. He made special mention of Russia's demands for control of islands in the North Pacific.

Senator McGeer told the meeting the British Empire was the most "un-imperial ever born." He pointed out that the government of England was ruled and controlled by free electors as were the governments of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

He described the British Empire and the United States as being bound together by common ideals of freedom. Canada, he said, was more than a link between Britain and the United States. The Ogdensburg agreement had made Canada and the United States joint partners in hemispheric defence of North America, "the great citadel of freedom for all men."

U.S. BUILT AN EMPIRE

Senator McGeer said the United States as well as Britain had built an empire. This empire had been evolved when the 13 original states began their expansion taking in areas such as California, Louisiana, Alaska. Purchase of the Panama Canal had been part of the spread of United States' world power. Moving Spain out of Cuba and the Philippines, too, had been part of the empire march.

"Britishers and Canadians," he said, "should not forget that the men who banded together in the 13 colonies were re-echoing the spirit of Magna Charta."

Lincoln's interpretation of the Declaration of Independence had been one of the finest in United States' history. Lincoln had defined the document as "the ideal many down was to undertake a systematic starvation of the Nazis. A lot of people shared this view, he added.

Dr. Anderson said one way to overcome the extreme bitterness of these people was to educate the children to a broader state of mind.

Warns Against Delay In Getting Airport At Gordon Head

A warning that, if the matter of an airport at Gordon Head was neglected now, the opportunity of establishing one there might soon be gone beyond recovery, was issued by Ald. B. J. Gadsden at a meeting of Victoria Chamber of Commerce directors Monday afternoon.

Ald. Gadsden said he believed airplanes were coming to take the place of motor-cars in transportation. "We will be lacking in foresight if we don't provide a place for them," he said.

He believed that, if establishment of an airport at Gordon Head was delayed too long, the area might be broken up and built on.

Patricia Bay was too far distant to be an airport of commercial value to Victoria, he said. He quoted authorities stating that, if the ground travel to an airfield took 25 minutes, air travel must be 110 miles or more to make the journey profitable. Vancouver was between 50 and 60 miles distant from Victoria, he pointed out.

Maj. H. C. Holmes, president, noted Gordon Head is only three and one-half miles from the city hall, while Patricia Bay is 16 miles.

W. L. Woodhouse reported he had been advised by G. H. Gardiner, city postmaster, that new mail deliveries would be in effect sometime in May. In an earlier report to the directors, Mr. Woodhouse said, he had told directors the new deliveries would probably be in effect by April 15, and that 25 new men would be taken on. Now, he said, he had been advised the post office here would take on 12 extra regular postmen, and four extras. All residential districts would get two deliveries a day, and business districts four deliveries a day, he said.

E. G. Rowbottom, who will go to the Alberta-B.C. committee meeting in Edmonton on April 16 for the provincial government, was also named as a chamber representative. G. I. Warren, managing secretary, was asked to get one other board member to attend the meeting.

TRADE MEETING HERE

Directors were advised the annual meeting of the Northwest Trade Association will be held in Victoria May 2 and 3, when the Alaska Highway, aviation and foreign trade will be among the subjects discussed.

Ald. Harold Diggon said he understood the city council would soon be approached for permission to put up specially-constructed garbage cans on street corner lamp posts, and he suggested the chamber consider the matter with a view to making representation. The matter will be discussed by the retail merchants' section.

The chamber was advised by Ottawa the sum of $67,000 for construction of a fisherman's boat was included in Dominion government estimates.

Leslie Bing, who has just returned from Ottawa, paid special tribute to the work of R. W. Mayhew, M.P., in connection with furthering the interests of Victoria harbor development.

Activities of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were reported by C. J. Harrington, who noted the Junior chamber now had under way its Clean-up, Paint-up Week. He also reported plans for May 24 celebrations as well ahead.

The directors received a letter from the South Saanich Farmers' Institute reporting its resolution, protesting adoption of daylight saving time unless it was adopted throughout the Dominion. Directors noted the chamber's earlier resolution favoring the return of daylight saving time, even if just for B.C.

"It will come in time. It is coming all over the world," Maj. Holmes said.

With the acceptance of four membership applications, it was noted the chamber's membership now stands at 522.

Omar and the Gorgeous Coffee Bird!

Many as the legends about the discovery of coffee. One tells how the excited and saintly Hadji Omar was faint with hunger on the Mountain of Oush.

He heard a sweet and heavenly song and a gorgeous bird alighted on a nearby bush. He attempted to seize it. It disappeared! His hands clung only on the fruit of the bush. Inspiration led him to boil this fruit. He obtained a delicious drink... coffee!

Coffee at its Supreme Best

There is little in common between Omar's primitive brew and the superb blend of coffees now known throughout the world as Maxwell House.

For Maxwell House is the result of an expert blending of Latin-American coffees—the finest the world produces. This glorious blend is "Radiant Roasted" to develop the full flavor of every coffee bean.

And because Maxwell House has extra flavor and extra rich, satisfying body, more people buy and enjoy it than any other brand of coffee in the world.

The tantalizing fragrance and mellow-rich flavor of Maxwell House add pleasure to any meal. Dinner with Maxwell House is something to bring a husband scurrying home!

By PETE SALLAWAY

WHEN Victoria athletes with a Y.M.C.A. history pack up and leave the city either in their quest for additional education or in their line of employment they rarely forget the man who played a leading role in the molding of their athletic careers. I refer to physical director Archie McKinnon whose mail sack each and every day usually contains letters from old friends in various parts of the world.

AMONG the latest is one from Bill Clarke, absent from the city nearly a year now, locked away in the Persian Gulf with a petroleum company at Awail, Bahrain Island. Clarke was a prominent member of McKinnon's track and field squad for several seasons. In a recent letter McKinnon warned Clarke to watch out for "those veiled ladies." Clarke replied: "The only dates down here are those that grow on the trees—and brother I'm not kidding." He tells about chasing a gazelle in a car, noting that these animals have a speed that would put the bang-tails at the Willows to shame.

McKINNON also received an interesting letter from Andrew Gillespie at present attending McGill University. Another member of the track squad, Gillespie intends to remain in the east to participate in the Canadian championships at Hamilton in July. And what is more, Gillespie, a middle distance runner, is going to enter the meet wearing the Victoria Flying "Y" colors. "I think he will win us a national title that day," McKinnon said. Gillespie also reports that Dr. Phil Edwards, one of Canada's most famous track men, located in Montreal with the Department of Veterans' Affairs, and now in his 40's is showing a keen interest in the revival of the Olympic Games in 1948 in London and is working out every night. Edwards was a member of Canadian teams at both Olympic and British Empire Games.

DUSSELDORF, Germany, was the scene of a humorous incident following a recent sports event, according to Maple Leaf, a newspaper for overseas forces published at Amsterdam. After seeing the football team, of the 53rd Division of the British Army defeated by a German eleven a civilian boasted triumphantly to a British soldier: "You don't know what this victory means to Dusseldorf; for the first time we have beaten you at your national game." The Tommy smiled back and answered: "That's all right—we've already beaten you at yours."

Four 'Y' Girl Swim Stars May Compete In U.S. Championships

Provided vaccination does not produce detrimental effects, Victoria will be represented in competition in the American women's open swimming championships in Seattle this week-end, coach Archie McKinnon of the Flying "Y" Club announced today.

McKinnon left for Seattle today to attend the meeting in an official capacity, as a timer, and the cream of his fair sex talent of the pool, four girls, will leave later in the week to attend the three-day national classic Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

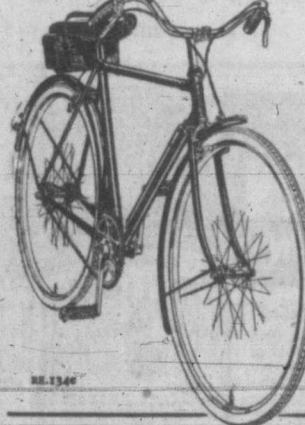

Joan Morgan, Ina Salmon, Leslie Rimmer and Aileen Smyth are the girls who earlier filled out entry forms for competition in the meet. If safe arms prevent them from participating they will have the pleasure of the best

David Moor Lands 35-Pound Salmon

One of the heaviest salmon ever taken out of Saanich Inlet at such an early date in the year in the history of recorded catches, was the prize reeled in by David L. Moor, 2842 Colquitz, Sunday. The fish bent the indicator on the scales to 35 pounds.

Moor was angling the waters of the Goldstream end around 6 in the evening and was using a No. 5 1/2 brass diamond spoon. "He gave me a good 20-minute fight before I finally got him into the boat," Moor said.

Asked how he managed to tie into this one Moor said that his party noticed seals near the rocks seeking a bountiful supply of herring. Thinking the herring were also attracting big salmon, the party went in close and with shortened line sought to prove their theory. And it was then that Moor tangled with the big silver.

George I. Warren's 20 1/2-pound salmon caught a month earlier, is the next heaviest recorded to date. Moor is not a member of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and therefore is not entitled to the silver button which goes with a salmon caught over 30 pounds. Moor was fishing with his wife and Oscar Guelpha.

Monteith in Good Marksmanship Form

Thirty-five members of the Victoria Gun Club and visitors participated in Sunday's shoot at the club grounds on Albert Head Road under ideal weather.

Good scores were made at the 16-yard single target, particularly by Roger Monteith, who, shooting for the coveted Ernie Todd gold medalion, had a straight run of 31 and cracked 47 out of 50 clay pigeons. "Todd, Ernie Hazenfratz and Johnny Wenger displayed good shooting eyes, Wenger coming out on top in the doubles event. Youngest shooter on hand during the afternoon was Wilf Gouge Jr., who drew the praise of the older hands by breaking 23 out of a possible 25. At skeet shooting Dr. Bechtel was high gun. Harry Pooley and H. Buckle posted the best scores to win the miss-and-out event. Jack Beban, O. Paulson and A. Oliver were the Nanaimo visitors on hand.

Canucks Coast Ice Champs Calgary Whips Trail

VANCOUVER (AP)—Vancouver Canucks defeated Hollywood Wolves, 3 to 1, here last night, winning the Pacific Coast Hockey League championship and the right to play the Boston Olympics for the United States amateur hockey crown.

The Canucks begin their new series against Boston here Friday night.

The game last night was fast from start to finish and scores were held to a minimum throughout by the magnificent netting by Vancouver's Ed McAnaney and Hollywood's Morris Gerth.

There was one casualty, Harry Hilliard, 21, Hollywood forward, suffered a slight concussion when bodychecked by Chuck Millman in the third period. Hilliard was taken to hospital. Hospital attendants reported Hilliard was in "good" condition today.

Neither team was able to count in the opening period and Vancouver sank all their goals in the second. Bernie Bathgate netted twice and Mel Neilson got the other Canuck counter. Blink Beltinger scored the only Hollywood goal early in the third period.

FINALLY BREAK TIE
CALGARY (CP)—Trail Smoke Eaters and Calgary Stampede moved to Edmonton for the fourth game of their best-of-seven series in the western Canada senior hockey finals Wednesday night with Calgary holding the only victory in the series.

Stampede finally crashed through to a 7 to 3 win here last night after the first game ended in a 1 to 1 tie and 4 to 4 overtime deadlocks. Four quick goals—all in less than two minutes—in the dying moments of the first period gave the home team the victory. Trail fought stubbornly thereafter, but the margin was just too great.

Calgary had held an edge for most of the period, but it wasn't until the last three minutes that it paid off in goals. Dunc Grant got the first one on a pass from Red Hunter. Duke Scodellero partly blocking the shot, but it rolled into a corner. Doug Cairns fired the next one on an assist from Bunnie Dame. Joe Fisher picked up Cairns' rebound for the third and then Cairns combined with Fisher and Art Michalak for the fourth.

Bunnie Dame made it 5 to 0 at 6:07 of the second period and then Trail surged to a comeback. The veteran Al Cronie slammed home the Smoke Eaters' first goal near the midway mark and "China Clipper" Kwong and Don Menzies added two more with Kwansie and Buckna getting credit for the assists.

But Sawchuk talked for Stampede just after the final period opened and Joe Fisher shot another one less than four minutes later to sew up the game.

Sportsmen Seek Co-operation Of Game Commission

Lack of co-operation being shown by the B.C. Game Commission toward the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association drew criticism at Monday night's meeting of the association in the Liberal Hall. Freddy Hughes, president, was in the chair.

It was pointed out that the association had earlier asked the commission to plant trout in Cushman Lake, on James Island, and Kemp Lake. The government group had failed to do so and had also failed to tell the association the reason why.

Games Warden Joe Jones explained the reason for it was that both were cut-throat lakes and as no fry of that species were available this year it had been decided to wait until a supply was on hand. The meeting, however, thought that the least the commission could do was notify the sportsmen why they were not carrying out the request.

WOULD RAISE LICENSES

President Hughes noted that the commission had promised to notify the association of any moves it planned through legislation to change the present fish and game laws. At the present sitting of the House it was intended to raise the non-resident angling license from $3.50 to $7.00 or $7.50, and the association had not been advised, Hughes said.

It was decided to ask the two commissioners, J. Cunningham and F. Butler, to attend a meeting of the executive to thrash out the co-operation policy. Game wardens will be invited to this session.

The Forestry Department will be asked to take action to have the logging refuse, which included water-logged timber, cleared out of Cowichan River and Lake. Members noted the danger to people journeying over the lake in boats. W. Lenesty spoke of a like menace in Cowichan Bay.

Dominoes Engage Raymond Friday

VANCOUVER (CP)—Victoria Dominoes, British Columbia basketball champions, leave here Wednesday night for eastern Canada in quest of the 1946 Canadian senior basketball championship.

C. W. McLachlan, president of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, said the Dominoes will play a two-game total-point series with the Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta champions, at Raymond April 12 and 13.

The winner meets Saskatoon Trollers at Saskatoon in a similar series April 15 and 16 and the victor of that series meets Winnipeg St. Andrews in a best-of-three series at Winnipeg April 18-20 and 22.

The western Canada winner then meets the eastern champions, either the Young Men's Hebrew Association team of Montreal or Assumption College at Windsor, Ont.

If the Y.M.H.A. club wins the championship, games will be played in Montreal April 24, 25, 27, 29 and 30. If Assumption is the victor, however, the Canadian finals will not begin until April 30 in Windsor.

Canadiens Figure To Capture Title Tonight

MONTREAL (CP)—Tommy Gorman, manager of Montreal Canadiens, said last night he expected the team to be at full strength tonight to meet Boston Bruins, in what might be the final game of the Stanley Cup hockey series. Canucks led the best-of-seven series 3 to 1.

Anxiety was high in Montreal yesterday that the National Hockey League champions might be without the services both of Butch Bouchard, hefty defence star, and Captain Hector (Toe) Blake, both of whom suffered injuries in the Cup series.

But Gorman was optimistic. "It looks as though both Bouchard and Blake will be playing and the team will be at full strength," he said.

Any special feeling about the next game?

"No but they'll be playing..."

Milt Schmidt, star Boston centre, is recovering from a charley-horse, and has a neck-and-shoulder injury. Playing coach Dit Clapper, who announced his retirement after 19 years in professional hockey, tried out in Sunday night's game at Boston, but withdrew a few minutes later when one of his knees buckled.

Bouchard's mishap occurred Sunday when he aggravated a six-week-old knee injury, and Frankie Edols stands ready to replace him if necessary. If Blake, with a back injury, feels below par, Dutch Hiller may be used on the punch line with Elmer Lach and Maurice (Rocket) Richard. Murph Chamberlain has been playing full games, but is affected by a torn cartilage in his left side.

Hamilton Tigers Eastern Champions

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Hamilton Tigers, conquerors of Montreal Royals in the eastern senior hockey final by winning the third game last night 2 to 1, were able at last today to relax for a few days at least before their next test, which is the Allan Cup final itself.

The O.H.A. senior champions ended the long playoff trail towards senior hockey's climax with their third straight victory over the vaunted Royals, but it was a heart-breaking loss for the Quebec senior champions. Royals had an edge on the play in the first period and had several dangerous scoring threats in the second.

Roots

Someone called trees "subterranean animals waving their tails in the air". Roots are forgotten because they are not seen.

So with textiles. You see a sheet, a piece of dress goods or the backing of a carpet, but you cannot see the years of experience and the expensive machinery which went into making it. Back of every "Colonial" sheet, for instance, lies almost a full century of experience and craftsmanship.

Nor do you see the risks and adventures of building an industry to make these things, nor the cost and effort to attain and keep up the quality which enables Canadian-made textiles to compete with those of older and larger countries.

Dominion Textile workers are now busy turning out the many things that are so badly needed for our peacetime living. As long as the present tremendous demands and relative shortages exist, we shall go on distributing our production on a quota basis, playing no favourites.

MOLUCCAS ARE NATIVE HOME OF NUTMEG TREE

If you study a map of the Dutch East Indies, you may see a group of islands known as the Moluccas. These islands lie between New Guinea and Celebes.

For centuries the Moluccas have been famous for their spices. Indeed they have the special name of "Spice Islands."

The Moluccas seems to have risen from the sea as the result of volcanoes exploding. A study of the soil shows that it is made up largely of rock which was formed by lava and ashes thrown out by volcanoes.

If volcanoes built those islands, the work was done ages ago. The of nutmegs were carried to the world's markets.

After the Dutch took control of the Spice Islands, they did what they could to keep nutmeg trees from being planted elsewhere. The British came along, however, and put soldiers in the island for a short time. During that period, nutmeg trees were transplanted. Today they grow in India, Penang, Brazil, the West Indies and elsewhere.

The fruit has a golden yellow color on the outside. When it is split, a large seed with an orange-colored coating is found inside.

The orange-colored coating is known as "mace," and the seed itself is the nutmeg.

Nutmeg trees usually grow to a height of about 25 feet. They have pointed leaves, and produce fruit about the size of pears.

soil today is rich, and in it grow thousands of kinds of trees and other plants. Birds with brilliant colors fly about, and there are large and beautiful butterflies as well.

If you want to find nutmegs in their native home, you can do so by going to the Moluccas. Trees which produce these nuts or fruits are found on the islands.

Nutmegs have held a high place among spices during the past centuries. In the old days of sailing vessels, thousands of tons

Chlorination Equipment Being Valued at Ottawa

The question of placing valuation on the chlorination equipment being used to chlorinate Victoria's water is under consideration by the Department of National Health and Welfare, Dr. G. B. Chisholm, deputy minister of national health, informed the city council today.

The legal adviser of the department is to come to the west coast at an early date "for the purpose of discussing with you and the other authorities concerned the question of the acquisition of the equipment," Dr. Chisholm continued.

He promised also that the council will be advised in advance of the value which has been placed on the equipment, so "that you will have time in which to consider this aspect of the matter."

CANADIAN SERVICE FIGURES
Canada expects to have repatriation of troops completed by October or November. Canada entered the war with an army of 5,000, an air force of 3,000 and a navy of less than 1,500. This was built up to an army of 495,000, air force of 250,000 and navy of 90,000. The nation plans a post-war army of 25,000, air force of 16,100 and navy of 10,000.

LITERATURE WORTH PERUSAL
A great many ex-servicemen and women who get discharged from the services receive a quantity of literature to accompany them from the military scene back to civvy pavements. These booklets cover every phase of service personnel's rehabilitation and are well worth perusal as they contain information that paints a much clearer impression of a great many things that are otherwise quite hazy in the minds of many. Further information can be obtained from the Department of Veterans' Affairs, Belmont Building, or from the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, 4th floor of the Post Office Building.

NATIONAL LEGION CONVENTION
The Dominion convention of the Canadian Legion to be held in Quebec May 19 to May 23 is shaping up to be the largest on record. Reports received from branches all over Canada and the commands in the U.S.A. reveal an enthusiasm surpassing anything in Legion history. First peacetime convention since 1938 will be bolstered by new blood and fresh ideas from veterans of the latest war.

DOMINION THEATRE

Beating one of the outstanding casts of the year, Rene Clair's "And Then There Were None," the 20th Century-Fox hit based on Agatha Christie's sensational mystery-thriller, is now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

The brilliant cast stars Academy Award winner Barry Fitzgerald, Walter Huston and Louis Hayward with Roland Young, June Duprez, Sir C. Aubrey Smith, Mischa Auer, Judith Anderson, Richard Haydn, Queenie Leonard and Harry Thurston.

The exciting hit, a Popular Pictures production, was produced and directed by Rene Clair.

RIO THEATRE

The nimble-fingered pianist, Carmen Cavallaro, who is so often compared to Eddie Duchin, and whose renditions are the latest musical rage, hitting the nation's top sales brackets for recordings, is currently being featured in the new Twentieth Century-Fox musical technicolor extravaganza, "Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe," starring Betty Grable and Dick Haymes and now at the Rio Theatre. In addition to accompanying Betty Grable in some of the sequences, Cavallaro will be heard playing the piano solos that have made him famous.

ATLAS THEATRE

The exciting comedy-drama, "Torrid Zone," a Warner Bros. reissue of the hit picture starring James Cagney, Ann Sheridan and Pat O'Brien, is now at the Atlas Theatre.

The picture, set against the exotic tropical background of the South American banana country, has Cagney and O'Brien cast as hard-boiled plantation bosses for a big fruit company. Miss Sheridan is in the role of an American torch singer who goes to the torrid zone to cash in on her talents as a singer and card sharp.

YORK THEATRE

Columbia Pictures' "The Fighting Guardsman," currently playing at the York Theatre with Willard Parker, Anita Louise, Janis Carter, John Loder and Edgar Buchanan in the leading roles, is based on Alexandre Dumas' exciting "The Companions of Jehu."

Maj. H. C. Holmes, left, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, and Walter Miles, vice-president.

Directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon re-elected Maj. H. Cuthbert Holmes as their president. Also re-elected were Walter Miles, vice-president, and G. I. Warren, vice-president.

In his short acceptance speech, Maj. Holmes spoke of the valuable part played by chamber of commerce work in a city's life. He paid tribute to the late G. Hamilton Harman, following whose death he took over the presidency of the chamber.

The president welcomed four new directors to the board. They were R. L. Challoner, T. Denny, J. Denis Hagar and W. C. Mainwaring. He expressed his gratitude to the four retiring directors,

J. H. Beatty, Fred Hawes, E. N. Horsey and Herbert Pendray, for the part they had played in the board's activities.

Other chamber directors are: W. J. Clark, Harold Husband, J. V. Johnson, Harold J. Wilson, L. B. Bing, Harold M. Diggon, F. A. E. Manning, A. Allan Pendray, W. T. Straith, Archie Willis and W. L. Woodhouse.

Hollywood Column

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Walt Disney has gone long-hair in a big way, and helping him is the long-haired, wide-eyed surrealist, Salvador Dali.

The Spanish artist is creating a six-minute surrealist sequence which will be part of a Disney feature. And, believe me, it will be a far cry from the antics of Pluto and Donald Duck. The way Dali and his co-worker, Disney artist John Hench, described it, it sounds like Sigmund Freud on a lost week-end.

The story, woven around a Latin-American song, "Destino," concerns the destiny of love, I was told. Thus two lovers, who will be live ballet dancers, will skitter over landscapes created by the master himself. The landscapes are typically Dali, laden with creaking telephones and melting watches.

The chase winds up in a Pas de Deux, or ballet duet, which takes on the semblance of a baseball game. There is even the huge figure of a catcher squatting and signalling with two fingers to the pitcher.

"Baseball it is fascinating," said Dali. "About the game I know nothing. But as an artist I am obsessed."

Dali, by the way, appeared to be an intense but pleasant man, and not at all crazy. This conviction is strengthened when one considers the amount of money he is probably getting from Disney.

A sidelight on the Hilo tragedy is that actress of the island had been in Hollywood, arranging to spend $150,000 a year to publicize it as a resort paradise. Yvonne de Carlo is being seen with Carlos Beebe, Uruguayan consul. Peter Lawford with Marilyn Maxwell. Won't that boy ever settle down? When Lillian Fontaine, mother of Joan Fontaine and Olivia de Havilland, blows a line on "Suddenly It's Spring," she retains her lady-like reputation. She exclaims in Japanese, which she picked up in her years in the Orient.

Drama Festival Opens With Three Fine Plays

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

The Sixth Greater Victoria School Drama Festival had an auspicious opening Monday night in the auditorium of the Oak Bay High School, when Mrs. Phoebe Smith of Vancouver, adjudicating, commented on the fine standard maintained in the three plays presented by Willows School, Oak Bay High School and St. Louis College Players' Club.

In opening the festival, J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, spoke of the value of the drama festival movement and praised the splendid work being done by the Department of Education and especially the general organizer, Maj. L. Bullock-Webster.

"The Bishop's Candlesticks," presented by Willows School, has been performed many times by older and more experienced casts. Mrs. Smith commented, but never with greater sincerity than was brought to it by these very young players. Beautifully staged with excellent costuming, the mise-en-scene was most effective at the opening of the curtain. She thought the play well cast and the teamwork throughout very fine.

ALL-BOY CAST

Mrs. Smith considered "The Tangled Web," presented by St. Louis College Players' Club, presented good opportunity for comedy and character study. She was delighted with the all-boy cast and spoke of the part of Kate Regan, taken by David Lawless, as being an outstanding performance, although all roles were well sustained, stage business was good, pace and tonal variety splendid. She was particularly pleased with the clever use of color in the setting and the make-up.

Oak Bay High School's entry, "The Romance of the Willow Pattern," drew high praise from the adjudicator, who declared that the piece would be a charming entry in this or any festival. Done in the Chinese style, which draws so much on the imagination of the audience, it requires a great deal of rehearsal, but Mrs. Smith felt that this was a thoroughly successful production. The simple, beautiful stage setting, the exquisite costumes and graceful stage movements were responsible for beautiful pictures throughout. Good atmosphere was created by the very effective lighting. Commenting on the fine voices of the cast, Mrs. Smith remarked that the foundation of a good actor was the possession of a good voice and knowing how to use it.

THE CASTS

The casts were: "The Bishop's Candlesticks," directed by G. Yard and L. Dawson; Walter Young, Alan Richardson, Virginia Dalby, Kathleen Thornberry, Robert Smith, R. Derry and T. Rimmer.

"The Tangled Web," directed by Brother D. L. Phillips; H. Prudhomme, David Lawless, Philip de Costa and John Ashworth.

"The Romance of the Willow Pattern," directed by Margot Gordon, student director, Clare Greene; Mary Butters, Robin Terry, John McLaren and Tony Cox.

Tonight's performances will take place at Esquimalt Elementary School at 8.

The zoning board of appeal will meet Thursday. Secretary W. F. Wright asks that all appeals be in by noon Tuesday.
